Subject: Why you're being laughed at...

Sirs:

Have you wondered why the President has taken the prosecution of terrorists out of your hands and given it to the military? Maybe because your answer to the biggest computer terrorist organization in the world (Gates/Microsoft) is too slap him on the wrist and ask him nicely not to be a monopolist any more.

It amazes me that you will suspend the Constitution for virtually everyone with a green card but you let some crooked geek with glasses get the better of you by just outlasting you and giving your bosses lots of campaign money.

You deserve the ridicule that is heard around town and I can hardly wait until your incompetency is replaced by a new administration and REAL lawyers who uphold ALL laws. Even the ones that aren't politically correct or able to get them some cash if they ignore them.

Remember the Constitution? Read it lately???????
